

Final Update

Chip left this world peacefully in the late afternoon of Saturday, November 3 at his home in the beautiful mountains west of Boulder, within a circle of loving friends.

In the eight weeks since Chip was diagnosed the outpouring of love and support from around the world has been overwhelming, and Chip left us knowing how much he was loved and appreciated. Monika has asked that no one send anything to her, but please do share your memories, thoughts, and stories about Chip in the comments section of the Engaging Vitality blog at <https://www.engagingvitality.com/blog/>

Please see the Engaging Vitality website for past updates written by Chip and for further news as we post.

Power and Grace
